ENJOY YOUR RESEARCH!
Can’t come to the library just yet? No worries! There are a number of online resources you can explore related to vessels and navigation in California!

Digitized Publications

A few years ago we digitized some of our fragile shipping industry publications. You can see them on Internet Archive!

URL: https://archive.org/

Type in Search Box: ((Harbor*) OR (Ship*) OR (sailor*)) AND collection: (californiastatelibrary)

Digitized Images

We have scanned and digitized a portion of our extensive art and photography collection, including images related to California ships. You can see them on Calisphere!

Type in Search Box: ((Harbor*) OR (Ship*) OR (sailor*))
Unsure about where to start? Consult a book! If you are interested in the history of California’s shipping industry, these items will point you in the right direction.

Brown, G. (1966). Ships that sail no more. Lexington: University of Kentucky Press. This older book looks at the business side of California’s shipping industry. It not only tracks the effects that shipping had on California ports but also the effects of a devastating shipping company trade war on western development.

2. Routes: Ocean
OTHER ON-SITE RESOURCES

Despite our best efforts, some of our resources defy complete description. We suggest that you ask a librarian about any shipping industry information contained in the following files.

Vertical Files

Our massive collection of vertical files covers a wide variety of topics including vessels and ships. You can check them for information on specific shipping companies and general industry information.

Subject Headings: Check with librarians.

Postcard Files

Separate from our photo collection, our postcard collection contains a number of vessel images. Most are not online.

Subject Headings: Check with librarians.
