

PUBLIC LIBRARIES AND THE COMMON CORE STATE STANDARDS

Resources Compiled by
Renée Ousley-Swank
School Library Technology Consultant
California Department of Education (CDE)

CDE Resources for Common Core

Common Core State Standards (CCSS) - This page is a collection of resources supporting the implementation of CCSS, and includes resources organized by audience in a tabbed section. The Community Interest tab is likely of particular interest for public librarians.

<http://www.cde.ca.gov/re/cc/>

CCSS Resources Updates – A site you might consider subscribing to for the most recent updates from the CDE related to CCSS.

join-commoncore@mlist.cde.ca.gov

School Library Page – This page includes a link to Implementing the Common Core State Standards: The Role of the School Librarian.

<http://www.cde.ca.gov/ci/cr/lb/>

School Library Standards – This page includes a link to School Library Standards Supporting Common Core as well as Brokers of Expertise, “the place where California educators go to get connected.”

<http://www.cde.ca.gov/ci/cr/lb/schlibrarystds.asp>

Other Resources for CCSS

California School Library Association (CSLA) – This links to CSLA’s resources for CCSS.

<http://csla.net/common-core-support>

Common Core State Standards Initiative – This is the official online home of the CCSS.

www.corestandards.org/

Ed Web Net – A professional learning community including frequent webinars on implementing CCSS.

<http://home.edweb.net/>

National Public Radio (NPR) – This links you to a recent NPR series broadcast on Q&A: A Crash Course On Common Core.

<http://www.npr.org/2014/03/18/291166780/q-a-a-crash-course-on-common-core>